Keeping the Faith: Suz's Monthly Message

My Dear Friends in Christ,

October promises to be a month of celebration, reflection, and renewed commitment to our mission and ministry. We will begin with a special celebration of the Holy Trinity Episcopal Day School on Sunday, October 7. Our First Sunday Service will feature songs that are sung in the EDS chapel services, as well as special prayers and thanksgivings for our EDS teachers, students, and families. Following the service, we will have a special BBQ picnic on the lawn for everyone. There is more about that on pages 4 and 11 in this issue of Tempo.

Throughout the month, our Neighborhood Groups will gather for fellowship and a brief report from the Vestry regarding our recent strategic planning session (See Hap Wheeler's Senior Warden Report on pages 17 and 18 for more on that). At this point, your parish leadership team of Vestry, Wardens, and clergy have identified several overarching goals, but have not begun the tactical work of figuring out how to implement them. At least one representative of the leadership team will be present at each Neighborhood Group gathering to share those strategic goals. At this point, we are simply sharing our goals and describing the process by which we discerned those goals. Your input is always desired, and we will suggest the best ways to provide your thoughts and reflections. In the months to come, your leadership team will be working on the tactical planning that enables the whole parish to work towards the attainment of our strategic goals.

On Sunday, October 14, we will kick off our Annual Campaign to fund our Statement of Mission for 2019. You will receive a Pledging packet in the mail the week prior, and your Stewardship Team requests that you read the materials carefully and respond prayerfully. The Stewardship Team members are: Bill McDaniel (Chair and Vestry Representative), Meredith McTigue (Vestry Representative), Jim Reed, Jerome Cribb, Samantha Murphy, Jody Hunter, and myself (ex-officio). Please don't hesitate to reach out to any of us with questions about our campaign. Bill has written an introductory article for this issue of Tempo (see page 19) and will speak briefly at each worship service on October 12. We are trying something new this year and will not have the usual presentations during worship for the rest of the Annual Campaign. Instead, we will try to tell the story visually of why parishioners support the mission and ministry of Holy Trinity Episcopal Parish, using pictures and video.

I support the mission and ministry of Holy Trinity Episcopal Parish because I believe that God has called us to be a beacon of Gospel light for Clemson University, for the young people who study there, and for the community that has grown around it.

Grace and peace to y'all, Suz +

Why Do We Do That?

“That doesn’t sound like our usual Scripture readings—what version is that?”

As you know, we have designed our First Sunday Service at 10:30 am to be child-friendly so that we might all worship together. We’ve streamlined the Liturgy of the Word, in which we hear Scripture read and respond to those readings with a Children’s Sermon, prayer, and song. We also invite our children to help lead this part of the worship by serving as readers. The readings are taken from a Lectionary designed specifically for young readers and hearers of the Word. God’s Word, My Voice: A Lectionary for Children was written by Lyn Zill Briggs with worshiping with children in mind.

“This collection of The Revised Common Lectionary readings (Old Testament, Psalm, New Testament, and Gospel), are paraphrased for children to be read aloud in Sunday morning worship, to help children easily read and understand the word God has for their lives. This collection of lectionary paraphrases is written in a child’s speaking voice, NOT as an adult telling a story to the children.” (Church Publishing promotional materials.)

These readings do sound different—by design. We have wonderfully poised and prepared young readers to give voice to the Word of God. This Lectionary for Children allows them to read our appointed Scripture for the day in words and cadences that make sense to them—you will notice that these young readers are among our most capable lectors and do an outstanding job of conveying the sense of the readings. Their ability to help lead our worship in this way is an integral part of nurturing our children’s spiritual vitality. I hope that hearing and seeing God’s Word in action in this way contributes to your spiritual vitality, as well.

Religious Service Attendance, Health, and Well Being<sup>1</sup>

Adolescents who regularly attended religious services had 33% reduced odds of illicit drug use, 12% lower depression risk, and 18% more likely to report high happiness levels. Researchers also found a 30% reduced risk of early sex initiation and 40% lower likelihood of having a sexually transmitted disease among those who frequently prayed or meditated.

LIMINAL SPACE: Notes from the In-Between*Father Christopher's Monthly Message*"Between Debate and Dialogue"

Hello, friends!

This month, I'd like to delve a bit deeper into some of the subject matter we're currently exploring in our Adult Christian Education program on Sunday mornings. The program is called "Christian Discourse: Difficult Conversations in the Context of Christian Faith and Practice." One of the most important questions we're asking ourselves in the course is: "What does it take for people who have drastically different worldviews to be able to have conversations about divisive, 'hot button' topics?" Or, put another way: "What are the fundamental requirements that have to be in place to keep a (difficult) conversation going?" As we try to answer those questions, we may find it useful to draw some distinctions between the terms "debate" and "dialogue."

Of course, there is overlap between those two terms—we have to admit that up front. They are not mutually exclusive. It is possible to have a debate in the form of a dialogue, for instance. But when we're looking for ways to open up lines of communication between individuals or groups whose perspectives might be radically different from each other, or ways to keep those communication lines open when folks (perhaps unexpectedly) run into severe differences of opinion, we ought to consider the ways in which debate and dialogue can pull in opposite directions.

To put it briefly (and to oversimplify things probably a bit too much), a debate is essentially a contest, a competition; a dialogue, on the other hand, is meant to be a conversation, an exchange of ideas. The underlying difference between the two is a matter of purpose—a person who sees a conversation mainly as a debate has a fundamentally different goal in mind for that conversation than does a person who defines the conversation primarily as a dialogue.

A person engages in debate to defend his/her position, to attack his/her "opponent's" position, and ultimately to persuade that "opponent" to accept his/her position as "correct." (The debate-oriented concept of conversation tends to define other people with different views as "opponents," as "the opposition.") Debate is thus adversarial by its very nature: to have a debate, we must have at least two "sides" that "oppose" each other. Debate is, as I mentioned earlier, a kind of competition; a conversation that is framed as a debate will, therefore, have to have a "winner" and also a "loser." That's how competition works, after all.

Conversely, a person who enters into a conversation with dialogue in mind has a goal not of victory, not of persuasion, not of attacking and/or defending, but rather of understanding. He/She is every bit as interested as the debater in articulating his/her position clearly, accurately, and effectively; yet, when it comes to the positions of the other people participating in the conversation, he/she is interested in hearing and understanding their views, rather than in trying to change their minds. Dialogue by nature is communal, rather than competitive. The goal is mutual understanding of several points of view, rather than establishing which single point of view "wins."

To be sure, there are times and places where debate is more appropriate than mere dialogue. It is also possible, even preferable I'd argue, to hold a debate within the context of an ongoing dialogue within a community.

When individuals or groups of people find that they are in such dire disagreement with each other, especially if the disagreement is over fundamental questions and so threatens to disrupt relationships and create permanent divisions between people, debate as a first course of action is not only not helpful but actually harmful. If we are to maintain relationship, if we are to create or preserve community—as indeed our baptismal covenant requires us to do, respecting the dignity of every human being and continuing in the apostles' teaching and fellowship, we need to make dialogue our first goal.

Over the next couple of weeks, we'll be talking about how to do exactly that in the Sunday morning sessions. Please consider joining us.

Blessings,

C+

October First Sunday

Our upcoming First Sunday service will be October 7. We will not have Children's Church that morning so that families can worship together. If your child would like to be a Lector or Intercessor, please let Mother Suz know.

Annual Episcopal Day School Sunday

Every year Holy Trinity Episcopal Parish celebrates the ministry of Holy Trinity Episcopal Day School on the first Sunday of October. EDS is an important part of the life of our congregation, and we believe it is important to take time to give thanks to - and for - our teachers and our EDS Families.

Please join us on October 7 for our Annual Episcopal Day School Sunday. Our usual First Sunday Service will include songs that are regularly sung by the children of EDS in daily chapel services. As a special moment for us all, the children present - including our Day School guests - will be invited forward to lead us in one of the songs practiced at school. Afterwards we will have a BBQ Picnic on the lawn. We will provide everything you need, although you might want to bring a blanket to spread on the grass. If you join us on that day, please don't feel like you have to get all dressed up. Some people will be in their "Sunday best," and others will be more comfortable.

The morning will unfold as follows:

- 8:00 am—9:00am— Holy Eucharist Rite I
- 8:50 am - 9:20 am — Breakfast (all are welcome)
- 9:20 am - 10:20 am — Sunday School
- 10:30 am — Family-friendly church service
- 11:45 am — BBQ Picnic on the Lawn

Nursery on Sundays

Our normal nursery hours have resumed—the nursery will be open from 9:15 am—11:45 am.

5 pm on October 21st at St. Paul's

You are invited to a very special service of thanksgiving at St. Paul's on Sunday, October 21st. Our 5:00 pm Evensong will be offered to the glory of God and as an expression of gratitude for the gifts that have been poured out for the maintenance and renewal of the physical spaces at St. Paul's.

We will give thanks for the workmen who painted the interior with such care that the historic surfaces have been preserved. We will give thanks for the care and advice that we have received from TreeSouth in tending to the magnificent trees in the churchyard. We will give thanks for the newly paved parking area.

(Recall that The St. Paul's Committee recommend to leave the back wall from the ceiling in the balcony down to the wainscoting in its natural state.)

These walls were left unpainted to showcase the quality of workmanship ca. 1822. -2018-

We will give thanks to the Episcopal Diocese of Upper South Carolina, the dedicated volunteers at the St. Paul's Thrift Shop, and to an individual benefactor for the financial support that has made this work possible and has ensured that we will have the resources to take care of our mother church for the foreseeable future.

Explore our NEW Pastoral Resource Center

Our Pastoral Outreach Ministry Team has gathered together resources to help you improve your health, care for aging parents and self, create a balanced life, and so much more.

Kanuga Parish Weekend 2019

Blessed Are the Peacemakers: Start Close In

Friday, March 1-Sunday March 3, 2019

You don't want to miss our weekend at Kanuga! We return to that bit of heaven on earth March 1-3, 2019. Bring the family, join old friends and make new friends while we learn about finding inner peace and wholeness. Our time together will include worship, program, fellowship, singing, and plenty of refreshment for body, mind, and spirit. We'll leave plenty of time for you to relax in a rocking chair, go for a hike, or take a nap!

Kanuga is a conference, retreat and camp center affiliated with the Episcopal Church and is a beloved haven of spiritual refreshment for many Episcopalians. Nestled on 1,400 peaceful acres in the Blue Ridge Mountains near Hendersonville, NC, Kanuga's historic setting features a 30-acre lake, and 20 miles of hiking trails. The Kanuga Parish Weekend is a long-standing tradition of Holy Trinity Episcopal Parish.

Program

Blessed Are The Peacemakers: Start Close In

Inner peace and inner healing may seem like elusive topics. But before we can change our families, churches, or communities, we often need to change ourselves. For Christians, that might mean exploring our understanding of God and our understanding of our Selves, because knowing God and knowing Self are actually inseparable. Why is your image of God important and how did you get it? Why is inner peace important, and how can we participate in pursuing inner wholeness? What does it look like to finally get to a place of self-understanding, self-compassion, and self-acceptance? This session will take a look at these questions. Bring a journal, and open heart, and a curious mind.

The book is beautifully written and tells the story of how God works in our lives through the interaction of a heartbroken doctor and a child.

Anna McKenna will be our leader this year and Kathy Naeseth will be the liaison between the group and the parish. A schedule of meetings was developed at the first meeting—please contact Anna McKenna at 320-761-0678 or email her at amckenna@me.com.

Hope to see you there!

EPISCOPAL DAY SCHOOL

Support the Episcopal Day School

Here are three simple ways YOU can help the Day School:

1. Ingles Tools for Schools Program, School ID#22875 – Go to <http://www.inglestoolsforschools.com/>, select the “Link Your Card” link, select “Episcopal Day School” as the school you want to support, and enter your name and Advantage Card number (needs to be done at the beginning of EACH school year). When you make purchases using your Ingles Advantage Card, Ingles will give back to the school a portion of those sales.
2. Clip, collect and bring Box Tops for Education to the Day School. Drop clipped box tops off at the Day School office (there is a grey deposit box beside the office door), in the canister in the church office, mail them, or send them to school with a Day School student.
3. “Like” the Episcopal Day School Facebook page at www.facebook.com/EDSClemson. Please consider leaving a positive rating/review of the Day School on the Facebook page, too. Ratings and reviews are powerful marketing tools for our wonderful preschool!

Consider the Complexities of Alzheimer's Through the Lens of Faith & Love

Go see Hazel Louise at Anderson University Daniel Recital Hall on Thursday, October 4 at 7:30 pm. Dr. Deborah McEniry, chair of the South Carolina School of the Arts at Anderson University’s Theatre Department is performing a play she wrote called “Hazel Louise,” a one-woman show about her grandmother. Dr. Alicia Cortis, McEniry’s cousin and a theatre professor at St. Leo University, co-wrote and is the play’s director. It’s a love letter to their grandmother, who died in 1998. A 75-minute journey through Hazel Louise Cortis’ life, McEniry portrays her as a child in Illinois during the Great Depression – a time that saw her twin sister pass away at just nine-years old – to her final days in West Palm Beach, Florida.

The church office has a limited number of tickets to this play that will be offered to parishioners on a first-come first-served basis. Transportation will be provided upon request. Click on the link above or contact Kara Hollandsworth at 864-654-5071 ext 0 if you want more information.

CLEMSON DOWNS

Clemson Downs

For the past 20+ years, many of your friends and neighbors have served as volunteers at Clemson Downs Retirement Center. You may choose the job most suitable for you and your schedule. Giving two hours a week, bi-weekly or monthly will bring pleasure to others and to you. Please call Wendy Longo, Membership Chairperson, at 722-5477 to set up a time when you can find out more about this very worthy program.

Singing Rooster Coffee

Perhaps the best quality and certainly best tasting fresh coffee available anywhere in the Upstate is Singing Rooster fair-trade Haitian Mountain Blue. Grown on the volcanic mountainsides in rural Haiti and currently under cultivation in our villages of Bois Joli and Morne Michel, high quality and exceptional taste are their hallmark. Drink up and enjoy this great coffee.

Remember that 70% of the proceeds from each sale go directly back to Haiti. Of each $10 purchase only $3 goes toward processing, shipping, and handling while $4 goes directly back to the farmers and $3 goes to support our Education programs in Cange and surrounding villages. Available in whole bean or ground, French, Vienna, or decaf. Also available as Cange Kups!! We have a back to school special fresh inventory of Singing Rooster Coffee and chocolate available after each service. Visit our website: <http://www.singingrooster.org/cange/>.

Festive Flag Banners

Clemson flag banners and celebration flag banners are being made for the ECW bazaar this year. The Clemson flags are made using a variety of Clemson materials and can be personalized with your name or "Tigers" or "Clemson". These make great tail gate banners with your name on it.

The celebration banner is made of bright cheerful colors and can be personalized with "Happy Birthday", "Celebrate" or a child's name. The Festive Flag Banners are approximately 10 feet long.

There will be some at the bazaar with no words. If you would like one personalized, it will have to be ordered by November 1st. Festive Flag Banners will cost $30.00 each. To order one please call or email Carolyn Wheeler at 654-2311, cslwheeler@hotmail.com or Sally Morrell at 654-5607, sallym29631@gmail.com

CHURCH AND THE WORLD

Stained Glass Ornaments

Stained glass window ornaments for this year are the Healing and the Teaching windows. Like all the windows in the nave of the church, these windows also depict major events in the earthly life of Christ

The Teaching window was given to the glory of God in honor of Girdler and Estella Fitch and Hampton and Judy Jarrell. He began to teach them many things ... Mark 6:34

The healing window was given to the glory of God in memory of Temperance Glenn Young Conley. Your faith has made you well ... Luke 8:45-48

These stained glass ornaments would make wonderful gifts for the special teachers and health professionals in our lives.

ments would make won-

These both will be available at the ECW bazaar in December. The cost is $25.00 each. We will also have a few of the other window ornaments that we have previously offered available.

Bazaar Baskets

It's nearly that time of year again! The ECW Holy Trinity Bazaar and Artisan Market will be held on Saturday, December 1 in our parish hall. I work on making gift baskets for the bazaar during October and November. If you have any of the following items you can donate (new or very gently used condition), it would be much appreciated:

- Kitchen utensils and linens
- Bathroom items
- Pet toys and paraphernalia
- Small children's toys, games
- Anything else you have that will fit in a basket!

Monetary donations are also welcome to purchase ribbon, cellophane wrap, etc. Please place donations in the marked basket that is in the Narthex or in the back room of the office (marked "for Iris" or "for Bazaar baskets"). If you have any questions, please contact Iris Reed at ibrh@bellsouth.net or call 646-6802. Thanks!

Trinity Space Defined

As the Trinity Place Committee transitions to the Trinity Space Committee, we will be working on assessing all of Holy Trinity's properties and facilities. I often hear the question, "Why so many surveys?; What do you do with the information?". We have taken a lot of information and condensed it to common denominators through conversations with dedicated staff and volunteers of each ministry, measurements of spaces, and the listings of the assortment of current furnishings — we have done a complete assessments of Holy Trinity Spaces as they are now.

Every room and all the furniture in our Offices, Fellowship and Education Building have been evaluated and some have been re-assigned. The Upper Level has one Adult Sunday School and EfM room, two rooms for the Choir, three rooms for Children's Sunday School, the Conference Room, Resource Room for Sunday School classes, and the Archive Room. The Main Level is primarily used by the Day School. Our youngest Sunday School class is using one classroom and the Children's Chapel, which is also used for Children's Church. The Tom Davis Library, the Parish Hall, and Kitchen are used regularly by the parish. The Parish Hall is used weekly by the Day School. The only change on the Main Level was the addition of a children's area in the Parish Hall. As well, more accessible information for different ministries will be posted on standing bulletin boards in the Parish Hall. The Library's lighting has been much improved and light is now adequate for gathering and meeting space for small groups. In the Lower Basement Level our Youth Ministry and future Canterbury space was the primary purpose in planning. We have dedicated a multi-generational Arts and Crafts Room, which has art supplies available and can be used by any class or group, as well as ECW for special projects. One classroom is currently being used for storage for Family Promise supplies and supplies waiting to be shipped to Haiti. It is not currently needed as a classroom, so it is welcome space for these Outreach ministries. In the Undercroft of the Church the only change was the re-purposing of the old Choir Room into a comfy Conference and Meeting space. It is been labeled Conference Room 2. The acolyte and lay ministers now have their vesting in that room and the old vesting closet is now a supply closet for annual events and festivals.

The transition of the Trinity Place to the Trinity Space Committee includes the same members that represent a balanced cross section of parishioners from different ages, skill sets, and passions. The following are those working on this important long-term plan.

The Committee members will be evaluating the future of Trinity Place, changes in our office or educational building for current or future updating, as well as determining the physical representation of our identity as Holy Trinity Episcopal Parish in Clemson. Our Design/Build team of Trehel and Signature Architects will be able to take our common denominators of wishes and needs for the future and give us, as a parish, options to consider. We are looking at 20 years ahead and understand that the vision will be realized in phases. Also, the future for our neighbors is being considered and how we can be good neighbors and create mutually beneficial elements with their input. This includes the City of Clemson Planning Department and Clemson University Planning.

Maps of our current room use in the Bishop Finlay Parish House (the entirety of our Education Building) are displayed in the Moorman Parish Hall. If you feel you still need to share your wishes for the future, please don't hesitate to contact Tommye Hurst at 864-508-2513 or tommyemommy@gmail.com. Please be assured all ideas are welcome. I often say "I have more ideas than sense or cents", but ideas should always have honest consideration.

Notes from the Senior Warden

Beloved Parishioners:

It always seems to me that my notes do not adequately capture all that is happening at Holy Trinity. There are two reasons for this: there is a great deal going on and so much of what is going on is in transition. Accordingly, as many of you do, please contact me for any clarifications to what I write – or fail to write. At the onset, I do wish to have you note one key item discussed below; that is, the Vestry will be seeking your input as we go about strategic planning for the church. You are the church, and as such are the primary source for the work of the Vestry.

Vestry Goals

A few notes on the continuing goals of the Vestry are presented below:

1. To increase engagement and participation in the life of the parish. As I have said before, Shannon Quattlebaum is collecting survey data so that we can understand the activities you all participate in and to match potential volunteers to activities in the church. This is our way of finding out who we may be overtaxing and opportunities for help we may be missing. She, or someone else from the Vestry, will be updating you on her progress to date at your next neighborhood group gathering.
2. To decide on the long-term use of Trinity Place/Space. Tommye and her group, in conjunction with Trehel Builders/Signature Architects are now moving ahead with the next stages of planning and tentative design for this part of our property. Tommye has also been very busy assessing the use of our current space, including a look to the future. Please see her separate report in this Tempo on pages 15 and 16 .
3. To communicate the work of the ministry teams so parish members are aware of their programs and their accomplishments. Meredith McTigue, our vestry representative to the Communications Team, continues with an inventory of all the ways we communicate. You will be hearing from her soon on this project. She has also proposed that we zero-base (my term) our branding and logos, which will be a continuing point of discussion in the committee. TEC has recommendations for colors, designs and so on that we can draw on. We have many and diverse ways that we represent or have represented HT, and it seems prudent to make an effort to standardize those, using where possible their recommendations. We started on that process a couple of years ago with the expert help of Cara Robb and Claiborne Linvill, and we need to get back to it.

Mutual Review of Ministry/Strategic Planning

While the final Mutual Ministry report has been filed with the Diocese, it remains a living document here at Holy Trinity. We learned a great deal about our strengths and weaknesses and we intend to use these findings in a formative way to improve our parish leadership and life. While it is hard to talk about weaknesses and failings, and in some cases hard not to take them personally, it is disingenuous not to address them and use them to improve. From my observations, this is the spirit in which the Vestry, wardens, committee leadership and the Rector have approached the process. Two major outcomes from the review are pending: (1) The wardens and Suz will prepare a mutual understanding of the best way for her to carry out her canonical duties at Holy Trinity. These duties are prescribed by TEC, but how they are implemented depends in some measure on the parish setting. As you know, she has undertaken creatively many approaches already. A further description of her duties through a Mutual Ministry review process was stated in her Letter of Agreement. Because we were delayed in establishing our first review, we are delayed in getting around to this step as well. (2) We will use the review, along with the reports of committees and the experience of the Vestry to create a strategic plan for the parish. The Vestry and clergy met on September 23rd to start that process, and the ideas that emerged were well thought out and, in my opinion, reflected what we have been hearing from the parish. To test that, we will be preparing a summary of the ideas for presentation at the same neighborhood group meetings during which Shannon's report on volunteer data will be presented. This summary will also be sent out separately to all parishioners. We are seeking your input, especially on items we may have overlooked and on prioritization of the strategic goals.

New Positions

I hope that many of you have been able to meet our new parish secretary, Kara Gold Hollingsworth. She has adapted very quickly to the job and is a delightful presence in the office. Since the last report, we have hired Caroline Daw as youth minister for up to 40 hours a month during the academic year. She is a freshman at Clemson and one of our Canterbury participants. While she is young, her age belies her extensive experience and dedication to TEC, including work with youth programs. An advantage of her coming to us as a freshman is the opportunity for her to continue working with our youth over four years. We have not had any additional applicants for our family ministry position, and the personnel committee is considering ways to expand our search for candidates. Finally, the Day School will be hiring Hailey Nielubowicz for up to 10 hours per month to help Suzanne Watkins with the EDS accounts so that she can devote more and less distracted time to the operation of participation in the school. She will also be available on contract as a backup to Lynne for preparing checks and related activities, if needed. Hailey, as many of you know, is an active member of our parish and a trained accountant, familiar with our software.

Financial Information

Our revenues remain under budget due in part to a slow recovery from the usual lag in summer collections and from a loss of pledging parishioners who have died or moved. A SOM for the next two years is being developed by the finance committee and will be reviewed by the Vestry. For 2019, there is an anticipated increase from 2018 of 6.5%. This increase is largely due to an increase in the cost of positions. We are budgeting for a 30-hour per week secretary and for a half-time family minister (together the cost exceeds that of the combined position that was filled by Chloe) as well as assuming mid-way through the year the part of Christopher's salary and benefits currently paid by the diocese. We will also have to continue to pay back the Anderson fund, as I discussed in earlier reports. The latter is not a loss of funds to us, but does tie them up to the extent that we can only use 95% of the interest they earn. The details of the proposed SOM will be available soon and I encourage you to ask our faithful Stewardship chair, Bill McDaniel, or any Vestry member for clarification. You will be receiving communications from Bill and the stewardship committee soon. (pg. 19 )

Other

Although we continue to operate without a family minister, the Family Ministry Team under Sarah Maiberger's leadership is very active. You can look for a more complete report from her soon. However, a few items that are being discussed include some changes in format of the Children's Liturgy of the Word (Children's Church) and The First Sunday Family Service intended to make both more children (and parent) friendly. As for events, the Day School Sunday service on October 7th will include a "catered" lunch and participation from EDS children in one of our songs. In addition, the Advent Event in its old form and time (5 pm, with a simple dinner to follow) is back, organized by Carolyn Wheeler and Kathy Crouse and directed by Carol Salter.

The Engagement Committee under Cindy Thackham has responsibility for neighborhood groups, newcomers, ambassadors, greeters, breakfast teams, coffee hour, and special events. This requires a complex group of leaders and volunteers. We hope their work will be assisted by the volunteer survey mentioned above. Tom Witmer has a good handle on the newcomers and neighborhood groups. Robbie Girder and Joe Yanes are managing the schedule (calendar) of the special events and making sure that the groups or individuals responsible for each event are prepared. The scheduling of people for many of the other regular events is problematic at times and the committee is looking into an automated sign-up system. The group is looking into updating our brochures with the help of Anita Arms, who managed their last production. The team is also discussing the reinstatement of the Foyers dinner group.

The Day School is off to a good start with its newly renovated space and almost full enrollment. The board will be dealing with the issue of a parish friendly security system since the new doors to the parish hall have been installed.

Thanks to your generosity, the Haiti University Student Fund now stands at about $16,000, which will pay for the student's tuitions and their living expenses for at least October. There are two other very good pieces of news: one of our students is graduating soon, and, because of an external opinion letter we have solicited, all contributions to this fund dating back to the beginning of this year will be listed on your giving statement from Holy Trinity and as such are tax deductible.

New Members of the Holy Trinity Staff

It is my great delight to announce to you two new members of the Holy Trinity Staff.

Kara Gold Hollandsworth will be our new parish secretary, Kara is known to many of us, and I'm sure her presence in our office will be a blessing to us all. She brings not only a skill-set and range of experience well-suited to our needs, but she also knows the traditions of the Episcopal Church and of Holy Trinity. Kara also has a warm and welcoming personality that is grounded in a strong, Christian spirituality.

Caroline Daw will join our staff as a part-time Youth Leader. Caroline is a freshman at Clemson University and one of our new Canterbears. Caroline has been active in Episcopal youth group leadership in her parish, in the Diocese of Florida, and in Province IV, and consequently has a working knowledge of organizing and leading youth activities. Caroline also brings to our parish her natural enthusiasm and strong faith.

Please join me in welcoming these two wonderful additions to our staff.

Stewardship Campaign Update

As we begin our 2019 Stewardship Campaign, we have so much to be thankful for. Last year's campaign raised over $488,000. With these generous donations from the Parish, we added additional worship services to reach as many of our brothers and sisters in Christ as possible. There is the weekly Thursday healing service and the monthly service at Clemson Downs. We are growing Canterbury and our Youth Ministries. We've made improvements at both Holy Trinity and St. Paul's and we are aggressively paying down the debt on Trinity Place.

Our 2019 Campaign will be somewhat like our previous campaigns.

- A Stewardship mailing from Mother Suz will go out in early October. Included in the mailing will be a pledge card, pledge brochure emphasizing the need to pledge.
- A Stewardship Sunday sermon and update on the 2019 Pledge Campaign.
- Weekly updates on our progress.
- Social Media focus on why I give.
- In-gathering Sunday, November 11, 2018

The Stewardship Committee has set a goal of raising $515,000 in pledges for 2019. To reach our goal, we are asking pledgors to prayerfully consider increasing their pledge by at least 5% over last year's pledge. I truly feel confident we can meet our goal.

On behalf of our Clergy, the Wardens, the Vestry, and the Stewardship Committee, we want to thank you for your past generosity. Your kindness has allowed us to accomplish many wonderful things at Holy Trinity. With your continuing financial support, we can continue to grow our mission: to love with the heart of Christ, think with the mind of Christ, and act in the world as the Body of Christ.

If you have any questions, please contact me at wmcdaniel3@nctv.com or Mother Suz.

Notes From Your Junior Warden

*Love with the heart of Christ, think with the mind of Christ, and act in the world as the Body of Christ.
Making, Equipping and Sending Mature Disciples of Christ*

Our facilities serve a wide variety of ministries. Our facilities are used for committee meetings, housing families, feeding college students, Sunday School classes and Bible studies. Every day during the week we open up our parish hall to some of the youngest members of our community as they attend classes at the Episcopal Day School. Over the summer, the Day School spaces got a bit of a facelift. Classrooms got new floors and countertops; bathrooms were redone. And in August lots of new faces and their parents came in with smiles on their faces. None of this would have happened without the dedication of Bill Hurst, Lynne Farmer, Jim Hylkema, Suzanne Watkins, and the entire Day School board.

I hope you will be able to join us at one of the upcoming neighborhood group meetings. We will be discussing ideas for parish strategic goals as well as ways for you to become more involved in our parish life. As the Vestry begins prayerfully considering the needs for the 2019 Statement of Mission, we will be looking for input from all of you.

The buildings and grounds committee continues to research safety measures and creating better ways to utilize our current spaces. This team is also working on developing an overall inventory. I am interested in forming a small group of individuals with an interest in creating better signage around our property. I also could use a few more parishioners to help serve on the buildings and grounds committee. Let me know if you would be willing to serve on either of these two teams.

As always, please let me know if you have any questions/concerns about buildings/grounds throughout all our magnificent properties! I continue to be blessed as I serve the parishioners of Holy Trinity as your Junior Warden! As always, please reach out to me with any questions or concerns!

This In His Name,
Kathy Crouse

Coffee Hour

Do you enjoy coffee hour as much as I do? This fellowship time after the 10:30 am service is very popular, and we are in need of people willing to host each week.

There is no pressure to put out an elaborate spread – this is not lunch! If you have a friend you can team up with, even better. If you have never done it before but are willing, we will partner you with someone who will help you.

Please call, text or email me and I will arrange a coffee hour date for you: 864-280-0539 or cdjpt@att.net.
